

Showhouse Showstopper: Georgian Heights

By Ann McCarthy,
Showhouse PR Co-Chair

It's been called the most breathtaking Showhouse property ever made available to the JLMN.

Georgian Heights, a turn-of-the-century mansion, located at 99 Lloyd Road, is the Montclair home of Michael and Jean Strahan. Mr. Strahan is the star Defensive End for the NY Giants Football Team and is the NFL Sack Record holder. In addition to generously loaning us their home for three months, Mr. and Mrs. Strahan will act as honorary chairs of Georgian Heights Showhouse and Gardens and will assist with Showhouse publicity during the next eight months. We officially kick-off on Sept 30th when several hundred renowned New Jersey and New York City designers attend an open house there. The grounds and house will be open to the public during the month of May 2003.

Georgian Heights boasts 28 rooms, a carriage house, stunning panoramic views of the ecstatic about this house and we know the general membership will feel the same way. By May of 2003, we'll be ready to welcome the more than 15,000 people expected to visit Georgian Heights. This will make a substantial financial impact on Children at Risk in our community as well as for HomeCorp."

HomeCorp is a designated recipient of a portion of the proceeds from the Showhouse, as voted by the JLMN general membership in June. This Montclair based affordable housing agency was established in 1988 and to date has helped low income families realize the dream of home ownership. "We are very excited about the upcoming collaboration and we hope that the result will continue to preserve affordable housing in Montclair. This is the true spirit of Montclair helping Montclair," says Beverly Riddick, HomeCorp Executive Director.

The JLMN will take over the house at the end of February. At that point, designers and Postmark Submission Information!

For anyone interested in submitting an article, a photo, a save-the-date notice or even a baby announcement ... here's the way we do business at the Postmark:

All editorial submissions (articles, ads, thank you's, save-the-dates, photo captions, anything with print in it) are to be sent to Linda Wolf at lindawolf973@aol.com ... please, all submissions must be emailed as a Word document(.doc file). All articles must be sent in article form, not press release form and, unfortunately, time does not permit typing or retyping of articles of any kind.

Any pictures, logos or graphic elements (.jpg,.eps, .ai or.pdf files) are to be sent directly to Nanette Mattox at nmattox@comcast.net. or can be mailed or hand delivered to her. Pictures can be color or b&w prints, and, of course, digital pics would be very welcome!

Here's how it works: Linda edits the newsletter from top to bottom and then passes everything on to Nanette, who designs it and puts it together graphically for production.

Thanks, and please make a note of these future Postmark submission deadlines:

9/13 for Oct issue
10/25 for Nov/Dec issue
12/13 for Jan issue
1/15 for Feb issue
2/24 for March issue
3/24 for April issue
6/20 for June/Summer issue

New JLMN Membership Requirement: Six-Points of Service

All JLMN members who are receiving placement for committee work (i.e. social committee, board positions, etc) must also complete six-points of community service during the league year as well. There are several ways that members can meet their six-point requirement:

1. Do a CASA Lifebook
2. Participate in 2 YCS Saturday events
3. Participate in 2 NCC classes
4. If you are a trained KOB puppeteer, participate in 2 performances. (Experience with the current script required)
5. Participate in Community Impact events. (The point value for most events is 2 or 3 points)

Volunteers will be able to sign up for the first 4 projects at the September General Membership Meeting. Community Impact will announce at future GMMs when they need staffing of specific projects as well. This is an opportunity to give back just a little bit more to the community that we serve, and have some fun doing it too!

Placement/Nominating Kicks Into High Gear

By Maria Cable, Nominating Chair

The Placement/Nominating Committee is happy to announce the addition of Linda Wolf as Advisor. Linda will replace Catherine Halbert who resigned from the position last month. Linda has been a member of the JLMN since 1999; she served as Postmark editor last year and continues in that role this year as well; she has also worked on various projects, including Education Pilot, Membership Committee and the PR Committee, as well as the Brookwood Showhouse PR and Auction Committees. We are thrilled to have Linda on the Placement/Nominating team.

Enclosed in this issue of the Postmark are 3 extremely important forms: The JLMN Straw Ballot, The JLMN Self-Submit Form, and the JLMN Leadership Questionnaire.

These forms give you an opportunity to help the Placement/Nominating Committee chart the future of the JLMN. We use the Straw Ballots, and Self-Submit forms we receive to begin the Nominating process. Your diligence in filling out these forms, along with the information you provide during your Placement Interview and future discussions with your Advisor, all provide the Nominating Committee with the necessary information needed to slate a strong and balanced Board for next year.

The JLMN Leadership Questionnaire is a new component to the Nominating Process this year. This Questionnaire, which is used by other Leagues around the country, will be yet another indicator used by the Committee to help decide the Leadership slate for next year. All League members interested in Leadership roles for next year will be required to fill-out this form. When deciding the slate for next year, the Committee will evaluate candidates using a set of Competencies (provided by AJLI), an Evaluation of Skills (developed by JLMN Nominating Committee), and the JLMN Leadership Questionnaire. These indicators will insure that each JLMN Member is evaluated fairly and that we identify those Members who are best suited to govern our League.

The Presidents Message

Developing Communities... Developing Women

Welcome to a new and exciting League year. This year promises to offer outstanding opportunities to volunteer and do good work on a variety of fronts. From standing projects and committees to our Showhouse fundraising event next spring, the JLMN will do what it does best: volunteer in our community.

Among volunteer organizations, the Junior League is unique. Not only are we passionate about the communities in which we live and work, we are also committed to developing the "potential of women". This development, which we traditionally think of as training, comes in many forms, not necessarily from the standard teacher/student roles, but rather from developing and learning from life experiences – an incredibly valuable type of training. The League itself is a training ground, either through our community work, fundraising or through the management of our own organization.

Embrace this new league year as an opportunity to try something new. Reach beyond the things you are comfortable with. The League can be a springboard to reach a personal goal that you can't quite figure out how to start moving toward. Whatever your goal is, whether its learning a new skill, taking on a leadership role in another community organization, exploring the possibility of a new career or simply trying something because you want to, the JLMN is full of opportunities for you to do something new. Think about tutoring 8th graders for the GEPA to see if that desire to teach lurking deep down could really become a reality or chair a project to gain a new perspective on how non-profit organizations operate or put together a truly meaningful Life Book for a foster child that has no family.

On September 10, Placement Interviews will be held. This is an opportunity to meet with your Advisor and explore all the possibilities the League holds for you. And, your Advisor will be there for you throughout the year, to help you chart your path with in the League and figure out how to make sure your League experience is a fulfilling. Take advantage of all of the opportunities available - you'll be advancing two great causes – your community and your self.

Warm regards,
Barbara

JLMN Leadership Training a Springboard to Success!

By Liz Ruvo, E&T Chair

As our mission statement declares, we are an organization that prides itself on servicing the community with trained volunteers. One step towards that goal happened on June 15th at the annual Leadership Training session. The League's new active leadership, including all VPs and chairs, participated in a full morning of presentations relating to procedural issues – in other words, how to get the job done. Barbara Casulli, our new President, opened the program with an enthusiastic welcome and brief description of her vision for the next year. The group then interacted with an icebreaking exercise led by Delly Beekman, the event's guest speaker. Delly, a 25-year member in the Junior League of Monmouth County, led the group activity in which everyone broke into pairs, culled information about their partner, and then introduced them to the group. Delly later spoke about leadership, team building, and conflict resolution. Her many years of experience taught us how to take valuable lessons learned from various real-life experiences and anecdotal situations and apply them to our work in the League.

Delly Beekman of the JL of Monmouth County and AJLI Board

Mary Jane O'Hare, Communications V.P. in Training Activity

After presentations relating to office procedures, finances, effective meetings, and communication protocol, the different Councils assembled and developed group goals for their specific areas. These goals were read aloud, and they will be typed up and distributed back to the respective Council committees for continuing review throughout the year. Thanks to all who participated ... it was truly an interesting as well as inspiring morning of learning and training. You can rest assured, the leadership is prepared for a fantastic League year!

Board Briefs:

July 2002

By Diane Reeber Lin,
Administration VP

1. Barbara Casulli, President, confirmed that the Showhouse contract has been signed with the Strahan's and that Michael Strahan has committed to participate in a number of Public Relations events in support of the Showhouse.
2. The Board discussed the status of the League's current Strategic Plan and agreed to determine the first priority that the board will focus on during the upcoming League year.
3. The new AJLI logo will be used on all JLMN communication. AJLI developed this logo in order to be better recognized nationally.
4. An Endowment Boutique will be held the end of October.

The Junior League Gets A New Look!

By Barbara Casulli

Across the country, Junior League's are adopting this new logo and tag line. The objective of which is to create a national identity – a brand that is recognized in the same way as other organizations such as the Girl Scouts, the American Red Cross and even corporations and products such as Citigroup, Coca Cola and AOL are. At the direction of the member Junior Leagues, the Association of Junior League's International (AJLI) is in the process of developing a comprehensive marketing campaign. The creation of the tag line and logo are the first step in that process.

Extensive research was undertaken directly with a variety of Leagues to ensure that the newly developed logo and tag line would accurately represent our collective organizations, while allowing individual League's to maintain their own identity. The result was the identification of several core attributes common to all Leagues: a focus on local communities, volunteer impact and women working together. The new tag line, Women Building Better Communities – is a direct outcome of this research. It clearly brings to mind community service, collaboration, and the impact of women.

Additional components of the marketing plan will provide us with the tools to communicate individual League accomplishments and promote our collective strengths. The next stage will be rolled out at the Fall Leadership Conference in October and will include televised Public Service Announcements, a promotional video and membership brochures. In the spring, at Annual Conference, radio and print public service announcements, a press kit, and a general brochure will be launched. Ongoing support from AJLI will include public relations training and technical assistance, an AJLI Newsletter and an upgrade to the Association website.

The benefits of a common marketing program promoting our shared identity and the collective strength of 296 Leagues comprised of 195,000 women are tremendous. As we gain national recognition for our volunteer efforts, we have the potential to gain access to limited corporate dollars earmarked for philanthropic services that thousands of worthy organizations are vying for. We'll gain exposure to an untapped source of potential members. And, we'll have an opportunity to communicate who we are and what we stand for - it will help us to shed an outdated image of the Junior League and tell the story we already know, that Junior League women build better communities!

So, how does this affect the JLMN? We will make the transition over a period of time, to manage the costs of adopting the new log and tag line and to ensure no unnecessary funds are spent. New stationary will be ordered when our current supplies run out, additional Blue Books will display the new look (existing books will not be replaced), and any other printed material will be replaced only as existing supplies are depleted. Going forward the JLMN logo will be discontinued. Anything that is printed from this point forward must carry the new logo – promotional items – t-shirts, bags, notepads, invitations, etc. Any questions should be directed to Mary Jane O'Hare, Communications Vice President. Graphic standards are available from Jan at the League office.

KUDOS KORNER

The Postmark is proud to announce a new feature, "Kudos Korner". Using the same submission deadlines for the year, any thank you, large or small, can be posted here. "Kudos Korner" can be used to inform the membership of a good deed or highlight gratitude already included in an article. It's a going to be a busy year with lots of people to thank, so let's make sure to utilize this spotlight!

To Maria Cable and the 2002-2003 advisors for working diligently over the summer in preparation to provide an improved advisor role over the next year. If you haven't received a call from your advisor yet, expect one soon.

To Liz Ruvo and Elena McLaughlin for organizing the Leadership Training in June

The property also has a sentimental tie to the JLMN since the grandmother of long time member Lynn Dodd grew up in the house. So, roll your sleeves up and help us get to work! There's still lots of room on the team! At the first general membership meeting there will be opportunities for those of you who haven't already joined a committee to do so. Or, if you're ready to get started now, feel free to contact any of executive committee members directly (see list below). And, for the latest scoop on Showhouse progress and activities, be sure to keep an eye out for our monthly Postmark column, "Georgian landscapers will begin an amazing aesthetic transformation. However, much of the groundwork work takes place in the next 5 months. The details of a project of this magnitude are astounding – a testimony to the great minds and ability of the women in the JLMN and the lessons learned at previous Showhouses! Junior League Float A Big SUCCESS!

By Allison Snowe, PR Chair

The Junior League of Montclair-Newark put together a festive parade float for the 4th of July parade in Montclair. The holiday celebration kicked off a week earlier, on June 29th, when volunteer members and their children came together to create colorful banners and decorations for our float. The banners represented many of our projects such as Kids On the Block, Neighborhood Childcare Center and Classroom Volunteers. Mary Jane O'Hare, our Communications VP, donated her home and yard for the occasion, serving donuts and snacks to all those attending.

On July 4th, members gathered again at Mary Jane's to hang the decorations on the float. A special thanks to Elizabeth Miller and West Essex Lumber Co. for generously donating the truck, the labor and materials to assemble it. The decorated float was driven to the parade with many members on board while others joined the group at the site. It was a sunny, steamy holiday afternoon, but excited Leaguers and their children had a great time waving to the crowds from the float. Several JLMN members, including our President, Barbara Casulli, and a few welcome and enthusiastic guests, handed candy and paper flags to the crowd as they walked alongside the float. The festive flags especially captured the spirit of the day and the crowd loved them! The parade proved to be a great success and much fun. Thanks to all our members and guests who were able to participate and help the JLMN be involved in a fun community activity!

The JLMN Mission Statement

The Junior League of Montclair-Newark, Inc. is an organization of women committed to promoting volunteerism and to improving the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Its purpose is exclusively educational and charitable. The JLMN reaches out to women of all races, religions and national origins, who have reached the age of 21, who demonstrate an interest in and commitment to volunteerism.

The JLMN Vision

We, a group of dedicated women who reflect our communities, strive to significantly improve the lives of children at risk in our communities. Through hands-on volunteer commitment, collaborative efforts and community advocacy, we train the leaders of tomorrow and forge the friendships of a lifetime.
